Annotated bibliography

Bar, S. (2020). Religion in the war in the 21st century. Comparative Strategy, 39(5), 443-474.

The article was written by Shmuel bar and focuses on religion and war progress in the 21st century. The article's main argument is that despite religion being the cause of war, it has also led to many substantial solutions in ending the war in the 21st century. The article is important to my argumentative essay since it provides arguments from both sides and no opinionated information. This will help advance my claims without bias of information whatsoever.

Miyajima, Shunichi. "Religion and Violence: Theoretical and methodological aspects."

Journal of the graduate school of letters 14 (2019): 1-6.

This is a research paper written by Schunichi Miyajima focusing on religion and violence. The article was written in 2019 and uses extensive sources to define the aspect of violence and how religion instigates it. The source being the primary source will be of great help since it entirely focuses on violence and religion. Since it is a recent source, it will provide substantial data on how religion has led to war and where it has been a peace element.

Vogt, M., Bormann, N. C., Rüegger, S., Cederman, L. E., Hunziker, P., & Girardin, L. (2015). Integrating data on ethnicity, geography, and conflict: The ethnic power relations data set family. Journal of Conflict Resolution, 59(7), 1327-1342.

The article was written by Nils-Christian Bormann, Lars-Erik Cederman, and Manuel Vogt. Its focus is on Language, religion, and the occurrence of civil war. The article will be of great help since its focus is on diverse issues of religious-political divisions and the occurrence of war. The diversity of the sources used to support the arguments makes the source an important one in the development of my arguments.

Reflection questions

- 1. Accurately recording bibliographic information is essential and saves you time, as you can transfer this information to the References page of your drafted essay. Each source entry should include a brief summary of the source as well as 3-4 sentences describing how you intend to use that source to build or support your argument. Discuss how your annotated bibliography meets these criteria. (2-3 sentences)

My analysis first summarizes the sources as well as the credibility of the information presented. I then connected this information with how it could be of help to my research in supporting the arguments presented in my 1 essay.

- 2. Which strategies were most helpful for you when searching for credible sources? (2-3 sentences)

In searching the sources, finding the most recent sources had credible information. I also considered the basis of the sources and time factor for the information used as references.

3. What difficulties did you face while searching for credible sources? How did you overcome these difficulties? (2-3 sentences)

There were many sources that had opinionated information and this made it hard to spot the best of the articles. However, I was able to narrow it down by determining the scholarly articles.
